The Vineyard/ Terroir:

This single vineyard Shiraz is rooted in Tukulu soils, which are derived from ancient, decomposed granite. The vineyard is situated on a cooler Southern facing slope, and together with the cool Atlantic breezes it has a long ripening period which ensures the even ripening of the berries with a naturally crisp acidity

Vinification:

Harvesting was done by hand when grapes reached phenolic ripeness. Fermentation lasted fourteen days at lower-than-average fermentation temperatures to capture the elegant primary flavours and aromas. This wine aged for sixteen Months in 225ℓ French oak barrels with no filtration or stabilizing before bottling, therefore harmless sediment may occur over time
